What Love Means to you? (Subject)

Hi iori!

How are you?

My name is Anastasia, I'm from Chernigov. I looked at your profile and got interested to learn more about you and start communication.

I hope that you will have a look at my profile and photos - maybe we have something in common and can continue this conversation? I really hope so..

Ancient Greeks believed that before people were different- wiser and harmonious, they even looked differently- like two grown together creatures. Gods decided to punish people and make them weaker- they cut every person in two halves and scattered them all over the world. Since that time every person feels himself incomplete and they look for their second halves to acquire harmony.

I think that Greeks were very wise people and this legend has grounds. Sometimes love comes so suddenly and we cannot explain why we have such strong feelings about the person. The feelings that appear when we meet our 'second half' are so strong and exciting that all other emotional experiences seem so insignificant.

Do you agree with this opinion?

I hope you will answer me!

With the best wishes,

Anastasia
