Dear Anastasia,

I am glad to hear back from you. And thank you very much for your complement.

I am not a keen believer in horoscopes. But sometimes I find the patterns of certain people's behaviors do match with the descriptions of their signs. Sometimes I can even guessed correctly which sign a person belongs to. Since there are so many things in the universe that are unknown to human beings, we never know if horoscopes are right or wrong. So I may as well keep my mind open. Do you agree?

University life IS really busy, especially during exam times. I can still remember the days I fell asleep in the bathroom with textbooks on my laps. But this is not the only occasion I fell asleep. Sometimes I fell asleep during lectures if the professor was really boring! Once in an economic class I was sitting at the very back of the classroom, I fell asleep with my head falling back and knocked on the light switch. All the lights went off and the classroom was in complete darkness. The entire class started to panic. Not until some people started yelling did I came back to consciousness and realized what was going on. I quickly turned the lights back on and pretended nothing happened. Ever since then I always make sure when I fall asleep, my head will fall at the front. I hope you will take my advice, too. What about you? What courses are you taking? Are the exams tough? What program are you in? Are you studying to be a doctor like your parents?

My week days are pretty busy. I go to work at 8 in the morning and come home about 5 in the afternoon. After work I will go to the gym to do some exercise. Then I'll cook dinner and have dinner with my younger brother, younger sister, and my parents. After dinner I'll watch some TV, read some newspaper or books then go to sleep. On weekends I'll usually hang out with friends in malls, restaurants, and parks. Sometimes we'll go camping in the forest.

I like people who are honest, humble, and respectful to others. I don't like people who are arrogant and think they are better than others.

As for relationship, I am looking for someone who I can feel comfortable with to start a long term relationship and possibly my partner for the rest of my life. I always keep my options open. I believe the search for a life-long partner should not be limited by boundaries, languages, or religions. Do you agree?
